Isolate Africa From Cold War, Rogers Says

MONROVIA, Liberia (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers ended his 10-nation African tour Sunday with the conviction that black Africa can and should be kept isolated from the cold war.

Not all the African leaders he met on his 16-day safari shared this view fully. But when Rogers' itinerary crossed that of Yugoslavia's President Tito in Addis Ababa and they conferred for 75 minutes, their only point of substantive agreement was that the African countries should keep out of power blocs and military alliances.

Rogers flew from Monrovia to Aruba in the Dutch West Indies, Sunday night for a brief rest following talks with pro-Western or nonaligned leaders in every part of Africa. It was the first visit to black Africa by a U.S. secretary of state.

Rogers told newsmen he noted no "very active involvement" by the Soviet Union in efforts to "socialize" African countries. Throughout his trip, he sought to persuade his hosts that Africa's cold war phase is over and U.S. African policy no longer regards East-West rivalries as a determining factor.

"I have made it clear that our purpose is not to engage in cold war controversy," he told the American Embassy staff in Accra, Ghana.

"Years ago, in the Eisenhower Administration, this was our major concern in Africa. But no longer. We think of (our role) ... as a role of friendship, mutual trust and mutual cooperation."

At the same time, Rogers warned the African leaders that they should expect less direct American military and economic aid in the future and should concentrate their efforts on encouraging private investment and regional cooperation among the African countries.

Some of the African leaders appeared unprepared for this new approach.

Gina Calling Off Marriage Plans

ROME (AP) — Actress Gina Lollobrigida says her planned marriage to New York businessman George Kauffman is off but they will remain good friends.

"We have decided not to marry because of personal reasons," Gina said.

"It was a decision we took weeks ago. I have always been against marriage. I have said that hundreds of times in the past but I thought things were different this time," she said.

"I was confident things could turn out well. But I soon realized the situation was not for me. I talked to George and we cleared all problems."

Junk Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressmen Guy Vander Jagt will offer legislation this week to cope with junked automobiles.

The Republican from Cadillac said his plan has three parts.

SIX CHILDREN, FIVE DIFFERENT SCHOOLS — Mrs. Emily J. Rice manages a smile along with her six children in LaGrange, Ga., in spite of the fact that she will have to hustle them off to five different schools beginning next September under the city's desegregation plan. They range in age from 6 to 13.

Dixie Favors 'Freedom Of Choice'

By The Associated Press

Two Southern states have passed laws supporting freedom of choice school desegregation plans while prohibiting forced busing of pupils. Two other states in the Deep South are considering similar laws, all of them patterned after a New York State law.

In Pasadena, Calif., the school board says it needs more than $1 million for busing to carry out a federal court integration order and a citizens group has raised $26,000 of its $30,000 goal for a legal fight against the plan.

Meanwhile, in interviews Sunday, former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace and Sen.

John Stennis, D-Miss., spoke out against integration plans that involve forced busing, but former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said busing is sometimes justified to break up segregation.

A law approved by the Louisiana Legislature and signed

Sunday by Gov. John McKeithen says there would be no racial discrimination in school systems but bars transfer of students to achieve a racial balance unless local elected school officials approve such a plan.

McKeithen said it would do little about integration efforts in the state but will make the rest of the country aware of Louisiana's problems.

The Georgia Legislature passed a similar law Saturday and it now awaits Gov. Lester Maddox's signature. Bills are pending in the Mississippi Legislature which would do the same thing, and Gov. Albert Brewer has called the Alabama Legislature into special session beginning today to consider a similar measure.

19 Animals Die

ALLEN PARK (AP) — Fire swept the Allen Park Veterinary Hospital Sunday killing 19 dogs and cats, and completely gutting the building. Fire officials say the animals died of suffocation. Cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

Terrorists Hit Bus, American Woman Killed

JERUSALEM (AP) — Arab terrorists attacked a busload of Americans touring the Holy Land in occupied Jordan today and killed one woman and wounded three others, the Israeli military command announced.

The woman killed was identified as a resident of Michigan but officials withheld her name. The wounded were two American women and a local guide, officials said.

The tourists were on a one-day tour of the Holy Land when their bus came under small-arms fire in Hebron's northern outskirts, the announcement said. A helicopter evacuated the wounded to a hospital in Jerusalem while Israeli security forces surrounded the area.

There were 37 American tourists, a guide and a driver on the bus when it came under fire about 3 p.m.—8 a.m. EST.

A spokesman for the Proper Tourist Agency, in charge of the tour, said the Americans all were from the New York area

Volunteer GI Plans Debated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Key Pentagon officials and the chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee believe it would be too soon to end the draft by mid-1971, the date proposed by President Nixon's Commission on an All-Volunteer Armed Force.

These officials feel more time, possibly two more years, may be needed to find out whether higher pay for first-term servicemen and other measures will enable the armed forces to attract enough volunteers.

In its report to Nixon on Saturday, the 15-member special commission urged elimination of Selective Service, except for emergency standby machinery, when the present draft law dies on Jun 30, 1971.

Meanwhile, the commission recommended that the administration and Congress move promptly to put into effect pay increases averaging about 50 per cent for first-term servicemen starting this July, a year ahead of the draft law expiration.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird appeared to agree with those Pentagon officials favoring a slower-paced schedule.

Laird said Sunday that "I don't want to establish any date" for switching to an all-volunteer force.

He described it as a "tactical objective" and voiced the hope that the Pentagon can move in that direction, but he said the Defense Department has a long way to go to get down to 2.5 million men.

Laird appeared on NBC-TV's "Meet the Press."

Pompidou Could Face Boycott In Congress

Mideast Program Of France Factor

PARIS (AP) — President Georges Pompidou left for a nine-day tour of the United States today, prepared for demonstrations against his Middle East policies but ready to put those policies in the most favorable light possible in his talks with President Nixon.

Pompidou and his dashing blonde wife, Claude, took off in a light rain.

Heavy security precautions, the threat of unfriendly pickets, and prospects for a sizeable congressional boycott when Pompidou addresses a joint session in Washington Wednesday made for a gloomy mood among the president's aides.

After arriving at Andrews Air Force Base outside Washington this afternoon, Pompidou and his wife are to spend tonight at Camp David, the U.S. presidential retreat, before talks begin Tuesday with President Nixon, whom he has never met.

Reconciliation Target

The two presidents are expected to look further down the path of France-American reconciliation on which Nixon set out a year ago. U.S. officials have expressed confidence that the White House sessions will be amicable because Nixon will avoid sensitive subjects.

Nixon does not intend to bring up France's relations with the Atlantic Alliance. Although President Charles de Gaulle withdrew French forces from NATO's military structure in 1966, U.S. officials have noted with satisfaction some informal cooperation between French and U.S. naval forces in the Mediterranean since the 1968 invasion of Czechoslovakia, but they do not expect cooperation to go much beyond the present level.

Extensive Briefing

Pompidou will get an extensive briefing on the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks between the United States and the Soviet Union. He and Nixon also are expected to discuss Vietnam, Africa, economic problems, the future of the Common Market, East-West relations with emphasis on West German efforts to normalize relations with the Communist bloc, and narcotics smuggling to the United States via France.

Although the White House intends to do all it can to make visit smooth, it can do little about what happens outside.

Critics May Boycott

Congressional critics of France's Middle East policy are organizing a stay-away movement when Pompidou addresses Congress. Sponsors claim that a third to a half of the House members will join the boycott, but few if any senators are expected to.

Demonstrations are anticipated when Pompidou sets out Thursday on a round-the-country itinerary that will take him to Cape Kennedy, San Francisco, Chicago and New York. Because of its large Jewish population, New York is omitting the usual official welcome.

Plane Sale Rapped

The adverse U.S. reaction to Pompidou's visit is the result of his government's decision to sell 110 Mirage jet fighters to Libya, an Arab country virtually without an air force. The State Department made known its concern, and there were reports of official American displeasure because France did not make its intentions clear in advance.

Large sectors of American public opinion also remember that France owes the United States millions in debts, that she evicted the United States from NATO bases in France and sought under De Gaulle to undermine the dollar.

Pompidou's backing at home on the Middle East appears minimal. A poll in the current news weekly L'Express showed that of 1,850 persons questioned, 44 per cent disapproved of government policies while only 20 per cent approved. Thirty-six per cent did not express an opinion.

N. Vietnamese Appear Ready To Extend War

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — North Vietnamese and Pathet Lao forces who recaptured the Plain of Jars made a "light probing attack" on the western edge of the plain Sunday night, indicating they were moving in the direction of Muong Suoi, American sources in Vientiane reported Sunday.

There was no report of casualties in the attack on Phou Kout, a small mountain outpost nine miles east of Muong Suoi, and it was not clear whether the North Vietnamese had captured the post or had pulled back.

Another unconfirmed report said North Vietnamese troops were sighted west of the Plain of Jars moving in the direction of Gen. Vang Pao's headquarters at Long Cheng.

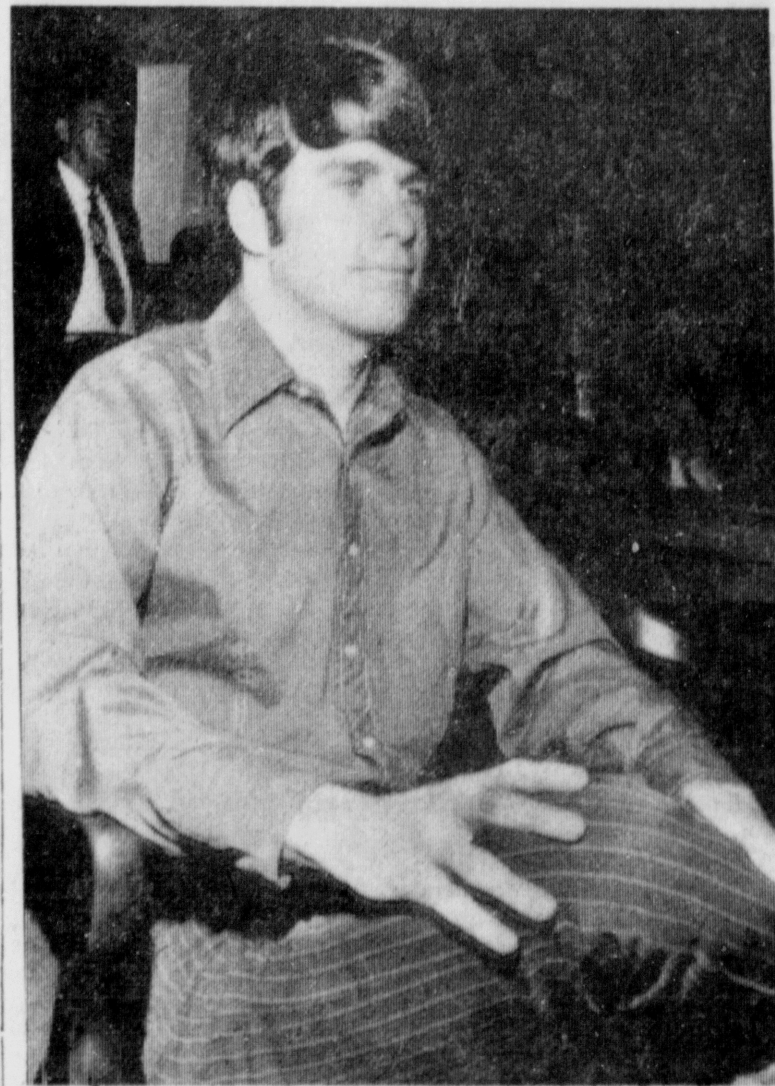

Muong Suoi is an important government position which was captured by the North Vietnamese for a short time last summer. T28 bombers of the Laotian Air Force operate from the air force there.

Earlier, the Laotian Defense Ministry spokesman, Col. Thongphanh Khoksy, said the North Vietnamese apparently had halted their offensive for the time being to regroup. He reported that the enemy used three helicopters, apparently as airborne command posts, during its attack on the Plain of Jars.

The U.S. Embassy reported Sunday that an American helicopter pilot was killed by sniper fire while ferrying supplies to beleaguered Laotian government forces on the Plain of Jars.

State Capitol Rerun Foreseen

LANSING (AP) — Reruns of the proposed bill would climb from 22.4 per cent for a loan of $1,000 to 24 per cent. A $300 loan still would draw interest at 30.4 per cent, but $500 and $750 loans would go up.

19.8 Per Cent Rate
The rate on the proposed $3,500 limit would be set at 19.8 per cent.

The Senate also could resume involvement this week with the school aid bill. If passed in some form by the House, the bill again would be voted on by the Senate, then sent to a joint conference committee for final rewriting.

The House also must complete action on a companion tax bill, passed earlier by the Senate to provide for a repeal of state income tax credits for payment of property taxes.

Changes Likely
Substantial changes would be necessary should the House pass the compromise school aid bill that Ryan worked out with Rep. Roy Spencer, R-Attica.

Minority Republicans, meanwhile, have called for action on other education reform bills that were in the package Milliken proposed last October. The GOP caucus, minority leader Robert Waldron said last week, specifically wants to advance two reorganization bills consolidating local and intermediate school districts.

Reluctant Supporters
But many Democrats and organized labor have been either reluctant supporters or outright opponents.

Sen. Sander Levin, D - Berkeley, announced he would hold a "citizen's forum" before this evening's session. Levin said he believes many provisions in the bill "will hurt the consumer."

Firemen Save Brave Toddler

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — With only their fingers stretching out through the grillwork, two men held a stranded toddler safely to the outside of an elevator cage 50 feet from the shaft bottom until firemen rescued the lad.

Firemen theorized that 2-year-old Lanny Ross somehow got stuck between the double doors of the apartment house elevator, fell onto the cage when it descended, then tried to climb down the cage side.

When the elevator stopped at the fourth floor, a tenant spotted the boy and called his mother. "Hi, Mommy. Get me out. I'm stuck in the elevator," the tot said.

Curtis LeCompte, a tenant, clutched onto the 40-pound youngster for more than a half hour, remarking after the Saturday night accident, "My hands were wet and slippery."

Saladin Akbar, another tenant, joined LeCompte in holding the child as firemen smashed the fifth-floor door with axes. With fellow firemen holding his feet, Lt. Andrew Small was lowered into the shaft and pulled the boy up to safety.

Swiss Sifting Airliner Wreck In Crash Probe

By The Associated Press

Swiss investigators sifted through the wreckage of the Israel-bound airliner that crashed Saturday, trying to determine whether Arab saboteurs caused the disaster which killed all 47 persons aboard.

In Jerusalem, Premier Golda Meir and Israel's cabinet met for nine hours Sunday to discuss the possibility of retaliation for the crash of the Swissair jet which included 15 Israelis aboard. Israeli newspapers demanded action, but a Cabinet spokesman said none of the suggestions considered was "taken up."

Weather

ESCANABA AND VICINITY—Increasing cloudiness and not much temperature change today. Chance of occasional light snow tonight. High today in the low 30s. Mostly cloudy, colder with chance of snow flurries tonight, low about 15. Variable cloudiness and colder Tuesday. Sun sets today at 6:26 p. m., and rises Tuesday at 7:36 a. m. Escanaba's low Sunday was 15 above with a high of 40.

Shaken by the explosion which sent the Swissair jet into its fatal crash and another which forced an Austrian airliner to make an emergency landing Saturday, four leading European airlines canceled passenger or freight service to Israel.

The Swiss government said it suspected "a criminal act" caused the explosion and crash of the Swiss plane in a cove near Wuerenlingen after it took off from Zurich. The government said it had instructed police and the Swiss foreign ministry to take "all required measures" to enable the Cabinet to act at once if the suspicion were confirmed.

Swiss officials refused to comment on a claim in Beirut by the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine (General Command) that it was responsible for the Swissair crash. Later a spokesman for the group in Amman denied responsibility.

The General Command is a splinter group that broke away from the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine. The parent organization has specialized in attacks on Israeli planes and Israeli offices in Europe.

An emergency commission of 50 Swiss crime and aviation experts was working at the crash site. It reported Sunday night that it still had no conclusive evidence of foul play. Official sources said a firm conclusion might take several more days.

But there appeared to emerge a growing similarity between the Swissair disaster and the sabotage of the Austrian Airlines plane in Frankfurt the same day.

The same Arab group claimed responsibility for the Frankfurt incident in which all 38 persons aboard escaped unhurt. German authorities said that the explosion which ripped a hole into the Austrian aircraft's fuselage came from a bomb hidden in a parcel mailed by two men from a German post office to an address in Jerusalem.

The pilot of the Swissair Conqair Coronado radioed back shortly after takeoff from Zurich that there was an explosion in the baggage hold. The hold caught fire, smoke got into the cockpit through the ventilation system, and shortly before the plane ploughed into the rain-soaked ground of the forest the pilot radioed back:

"There is nothing more we can do. Many thanks. Good bye."

Lenore Romney

Lenore's Political Bid Suffers Setback

LANSING (AP) — Republican party leadership managing the search for a consensus candidate to oppose U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart, the two-term Democratic incumbent, must try again after failing to hand the prize to Mrs. Lenore Romney on a silver platter.

All the other aspirants gallantly bowed out in deference to the wife of former Michigan Gov. George Romney, now U.S. secretary of housing and urban development.

Not Enough Votes

Mrs. Romney's name was the sole one left on the third and final ballot Saturday night. There still were not enough votes to reach the 75 per cent figure required for an endorsement of a "preferred" candidate under the GOP ground rules.

So the search goes on and a

The last candidate to withdraw was U.S. Rep. Donald Riegle Jr. of Flint. The 32-year-old antiwar congressman is just more than half the age of Mrs. Romney, now 61.

But the way Riegle withdrew had the more than 300 delegates at the Lansing conference thoroughly confused. Riegle sent down a note, read by Gov. William Milliken, saying he wanted to withdraw before the second ballot and adding, "Personally, if I had a vote, I would cast it for Lenore."

Note Not Read

The note was not read until after the second ballot was cast with Riegle's name still on it. Riegle once again asked to explain his position. He then said he did not want to be considered a candidate if any more ballots

Wells Woman Traffic Victim

A 27-year-old Wells woman was pronounced dead at the scene after a two-car accident on the Escanaba River bridge on U.S. 2 at 3 p.m. Saturday. Fatally injured was Nancy Jyrkila, 27, 19 1st St., Wells. The driver of the other car, Rebecca Wiltzius, 19, 520 Michigan Ave., Gladstone, is listed in good condition this morning at St. Francis Hospital.

Michigan Ave., Gladstone, a passenger in the Wiltzius vehicle is also listed in good condition following injuries suffered in the collision. The driver's sister, Susan, 17, suffered minor injuries in the wreck and was treated at St. Francis and released.

According to State Police, the Jyrkila car was headed north on the roadway and the Wiltzius vehicle was headed south when the Jyrkila auto suddenly swerved across the centerline and the vehicles collided head-on in the southbound lane.

Mrs. Jyrkila was born March 11, 1942 in Escanaba. She attended Gladstone High School, and lived most of her life in the Escanaba area. She was a member of the Mission Covenant Church of Gladstone.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Tordeur; two sons, Gary Stone and Jerry Jyrkila; two daughters, Kathy Stone and Julie Jyrkila; two sisters, Mrs. Gerald (Sandra) Tang and Mrs. John (Karen) Anderson; and one brother, Raymond Tordeur.

Friends may call from 4 to 9:30 p.m. today at the Skradski Funeral Home.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 11 a.m. at the funeral home with the Rev. Kent Palmquist officiating.

Burial will be in the Fernwood Cemetery.

Union Backs Kincheloe Site

SAULT STE. MARIE — A campaign to establish a Safe-guard antiballistic missile site at Kincheloe Air Force Base when it is abandoned has spread in Washington, D.C., according to Erwin Christie.

Christie is an official of Federal Employees Local 32 here. The union has sent letters to Michigan lawmakers and Defense Secretary Melvin Laird urging the ABM facilities at Kincheloe after it is abandoned in October.

Christie said that the Washington headquarters of the union has contacted various governmental agencies in support of the Local 32 plan.

Civilian employees at the base, who would lose their jobs when the Air Force leaves Kincheloe, have backed the plan.

They argue that if the United States is planning to spend millions on a new base in Michigan as part of the second stage in the ABM buildup, why not use Kincheloe?

They also say that the base already has sufficient housing, buildings and services and its use could save the government millions of dollars.

Barn Fire Kills Nadeau Girl, 6

NADEAU — Flames that engulfed a barn in which three children were playing caused the death of six-year-old Mary Ellen Frisque, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Frisque, on Sunday.

The Frisque children, Mary Ellen, her brother Richard II and sister Barbara 9, were playing with some rabbits in the loft of the barn when the fire occurred about 10:40 a.m.

State Police of the Stephenson post said they were told that the children heard "a loud crack" and that smoke and flames began coming up from below. Barbara ran and told her parents and Richard tried to get Mary Ellen to leave the loft with him. But she was frightened and clung to a pole and refused to descend and he could not pull her away.

The Menominee County sheriff's office was notified by the Frisques and State Police and the Powers-Spalding fire department were called. The body was recovered and taken to the Diehm Funeral Home at Stephenson.

The one-story frame building, about 30 feet wide and 70 feet long, was owned by Vincent Frisque. About 1,000 bales of hay and straw were stored in the building and the loss is estimated at $2,000. Some farm machinery was also in the building.

The cause of the fire has not been officially determined and State Police are continuing their investigation. Unofficially it was ascribed to faulty electrical wiring which ignited the hay and straw stored in the barn.

Mary Ellen Frisque, 6, was born June 28, 1963 in Menominee and was a first grade student at the Carney Elementary School.

Surviving besides her parents are six sisters, Betty, Frances, Joyce, Barbara, Brenda and Kelly, all at home; one brother, Richard, at home and her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Frisque of Nadeau.

Friends may call at the Diehm Funeral Home in Stephenson after 6 p.m. today and parish prayers will be recited at 8 p.m. The Mass of the Angels will be said at 10 a.m. Tuesday at St. Bruno's Church in Nadeau with the Rev. Ralph Sterbenz officiating and burial will be in the Nadeau Cemetery.

Marquette Initiates City-County Project

MARQUETTE — Creation of a three-man Marquette County building authority to develop and maintain a proposed city-owned administrative complex and new county jail, is expected to be effected by the Marquette County Board of Supervisors and Marquette City Commission within a month.

Such an authority would be given power to proceed with erection of city-county facilities west of the present court house on the block bounded by Baraga Ave., Spring, Fourth and Third Sts.

Agree On Layout

Marquette County, City of Marquette and the Marquette Board of Light and Power would become tenants of the authority in the new buildings, which would include the combined city-owned complex, a new sheriff's residence and offices and a new jail.

The project would involve demolition of residential dwellings and the old sheriff's-jail structures now located in the block.

General agreement with details of the project was expressed at a meeting Friday of the County Board's buildings, grounds and insurance committee with City of Marquette and Board of Light and Power officials and representatives of the architectural firm of Daverman Associates.

Formal Action Expected

The committee's recommendation for creation of a building authority will go to the County Board at its next regular meeting March 18.

Foursome Freed In Girl's Death

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — Four persons, including the husband of the victim and a Wayne, N.J., newspaper publisher and his wife and a salesman, have been acquitted in the 1966 murder of Judith Kavanaugh.

The verdict, after a four-month trial, came Sunday, one day short of four years from the date the Clifton, N.J., housewife was strangled and shot.

Found innocent were her husband, Paul, 27; publisher Harold Matzner, 33, of the newspaper Wayne Today, who lives in Denville; his wife, Dorothea, 37; and Vincent Kearney Jr., 30, a Paterson salesman. Kavanaugh is employed by Matzner.

The body of the 21-year-old Mrs. Kavanaugh, partially clad, was found near the Garden State Parkway exit at Clifton on March 13, 1966.

It is understood that board members already have reached agreement on the project since authorizing employment of the architectural firm to prepare preliminary plans in November. Marquette City Commission members, who also are believed to be in accord with provisions of the project, probably will act on establishment of an authority before then.

As explained at Friday's meeting by Prosecuting Attorney Edward H. Quinnell, the building authority must consist of three persons — with the commission and county board selecting one each and taking joint action to name the third member.

Estimated Cost

Daverman Associates representatives expressed belief that the ultimate cost of the entire layout, including all fees, site development and probable remodeling of the present county court house, will be $3,500,000. Since the city would be involved only in the county-city administrative office complex, its share of that total would be about $1,220,000. The county would pay the remainder.

Many details, including financing methods, remain to be worked out before the project can be undertaken.

Preparation of detailed plans, after decision is reached on the entire layout of offices, probably will take at least 60 days.

Lenore Romney's Political Plan Suffers Setback

were cast at that meeting.

But he added if another meeting were to be held "I would take another look at it and be prepared to have my name considered."

Riegle said earlier he didn't want to be considered a consensus candidate because he didn't think he could get enough financial backing.

"I can't say I can assemble the resources to wage a winning campaign," Riegle conceded.

A spokesman for Richard Headlee of Rosebush, former president of the national Jaycees and operator of a real estate and housing company, withdrew Headlee's name in favor of Mrs. Romney after Headlee picked up a few votes on the first ballot.

Vote Push Fails

State Sen. Charles O. Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, and several others tried to push through a ruling that a unanimous vote be cast for Mrs. Romney as the only remaining candidate. It failed. After more than five hours of bickering, the showdown came with delegates asked to vote either for Mrs. Romney or for no consensus.

The vote was supposed to be secret, but delegates who closely watched the count reported the final vote was 173 for Mrs. Romney, 114 for no consensus and four other scattered votes.

"I'm going to have to sleep on it overnight before I decide where to go from here," Mrs. Romney said afterward.

Lenore Stunned

"She was stunned," a close personal friend commented.

It was evident the unlikely combination of backers of Huber and of Riegle blocked the former Michigan first lady from becoming the GOP consensus choice as U.S. Senate candidate.

Mrs. Romney, slim and chic in a simply tailored blue dress, drew a thunderous standing ovation when she appeared before the delegates. She spoke without notes, however, and several times faltered and lost her way. "I know you're looking toward my husband," she admitted.

O'Neill Quits Last

"Earlier, James F. O'Neill of Livonia, the State Board of Education treasurer, also withdrew in favor of Mrs. Romney saying, 'If you need me, just give a little whistle, and I'll be there.'"

Spokesmen made token speeches for the candidacies of U.S. Rep. Jack H. MacDonald of Ann Arbor and Robert Blackwell, mayor of Highland Park, but neither figured in the voting. Ground rules for the next meeting still are uncertain. It is probable only the strongest candidates will be considered although one delegate commented, "When we meet next time, we may have to start all over."

Girls, Mothers Honored By DAR

Five Delta County high school senior girls, selected by their schools as representatives of good citizenship, and their mothers were honored Saturday by the Lewis Cass Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

The luncheon program at the House of Ludington included presentation of pins and certificates to the five young women by Mrs. Ellis Movallson Jr., DAR good citizenship committee chairman.

The girls are selected by their schools regardless of race, creed or nationality for the recognition as part of a program sponsored by the DAR beginning in 1934. Qualities of dependability, service, leadership and patriotism are exemplified in the selections.

Mrs. Frederic Welch, DAR regent, conducted the meeting, and read a poem relating to the observance of George Washington's birthday anniversary. Mrs. Movallson introduced the girls and their mothers.

Mrs. A. M. Gilbert presented the program, commentary and color slides covering a tour of the South Seas.

Besides the recognition and the presentation of pins and certificates as "Good Citizen Girl" of her school, the girls are now competitors for state and national honors. The winner in each state receives a $150 bond and the national winner a $1,000 scholarship. Last year 236 Michigan schools participated in the contest.

Besides its sponsorship of the Good Citizenship program in Delta County, the DAR also sponsors a similar project among four high schools in Marquette County. The Marquette young women, however, do not attend the recognition luncheon in Escanaba.

Wrong Approach

Spokesmen for Region 17 of the Michigan Education Association reported last week that the teachers of the region (Marquette, Alger Delta, Menominee and Dickinson counties) are considering a "moratorium day" in protest of Legislative support of the parochial provisions of Gov. William Milliken's education bills. More specifically, teachers of the region would direct their comments at Rep. John Payant (R-Kingsford) and Rep. Dominic Jacobett (D-Negaunee) who have supported parochialism in voting to date.

The moratorium would result in closing many, if not all, of the public schools in the five-county area as teachers took a day to work against parochialism.

Such a move might dramatize the MEA's official hostility to parochial legislation, but there is no way that the forced closing of schools can serve any useful purpose. If anything, a regional walkout might boomerang and instead of turning the Legislative votes against parochialism it could well turn the public against the MEA.

The Michigan Education Association has a right to oppose parochial legislation which it believes will jeopardize Michigan's public school system. If even a dime is granted by the Legislature to assist non-public schools, the gates will have been opened for equal state support to public and non-public schools in the future. Once state support is equalized, it isn't too difficult to envision a move for local taxes. And if that happens — not even considering the grave questions of tax money for religious purposes — the state could be in the impossible position of paying for and regulating competing school systems or, even worse, paying for two or more systems and controlling only one.

But for the MEA to consider closing schools for a political purpose is wrong, ethically and legally.

If a moratorium day is considered necessary to demonstrate the organization's very real concern for public education as related to the parochial question, then why not do it on a Saturday or Sunday or in mass meetings or demonstrations after class hours?

Apparently, within the organization, there are those who also question the wisdom of the moratorium day tactic and hopefully this view will prevail at the "decision meeting" Wednesday at Rapid River.

By closing the doors of the public schools, even for a day which would be made up later, the teachers would be damaging exactly what they are trying to protect.

U.P. Growth

William F. Wilson of Marquette, executive manager of Operation Action-U.P., has put together four interesting sets of indicators reflecting the economic growth of the Upper Peninsula during the past decade. The indicators are the rate of employment, bank deposits, iron ore production and traffic across the Mackinac Bridge. All showed substantial gains during the 60s.

"This economic growth reversed the trend of the 40s and 50s, and although retarded by strikes, it ended the decade with strength," Wilson said.

In 1961, the downward trend in employment in the Upper Peninsula was halted. From a low point of 83,100 employed that year, the total rose to 88,600 at the end of the decade. There was still considerable unemployment as the decade closed, however. Eight and a half per cent of the labor force was out of work, considerably higher than the national level. There obviously was plenty of room for improvement in the Upper Peninsula job picture in the 70s.

Bank deposits showed impressive gains during the 10 year period — 87 per cent in current dollars and 40.5 per cent when an inflation factor is included, still a very healthy increase.

Iron ore shipments were declining at the beginning of the 60s in the face of competition from foreign ores, which were cheaper to extract than Upper Peninsula ores, and domestic ores that had a higher iron content than ores from Michigan. But a shift to open pit mining operations and beneficiation and pelletizing of ores on the Marquette and Menominee Ranges greatly strengthened the competitive position of Michigan iron ores before the decade was over.

Shipments rose from 9,400,000 tons of iron ore in 1961 to 13,920,000 tons last year. Employment by Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co., largest producer of iron ores in the Upper Peninsula, rose from 1,633 men in 1960 to 3,155 at the end of the decade.

Traffic Volume over the Mackinac Bridge linking the Upper and Lower Peninsulas rose from a low in 1961 of 1,098,828 crossings to 1,836,383 crossings last year when fares were cut 60 per cent.

Economically, the Upper Peninsula may not yet be out of the woods, but it certainly is in a much better position at the start of 1970 than it was 10 years ago.

Peninsula Potpourri

The Sault Locks, which handled more than 97 million tons of cargo during the 1969 shipping season, may be headed for another long and busy navigation period. Indications are that some effort may be made to get the Lake Superior season started by late March, principally because of an unprecedented demand for iron ore and pellets.

The Copper Country Area Industrial Council has been organized to help promote industrial development of Houghton and Keweenaw counties. Kenneth D. Seaton, president of Detroit & Northern Savings and Loan Association, served as chairman of the steering committee which led to formal organization and also has been elected chairman of the council.

Judge Hoffman: Hero Or Establishment Bum

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

To hear the New Left caterwaul about the contempt of court sentences handed out to the defendants and their lawyers in the Chicago conspiracy trial, you might think that Judge Julius Hoffman — "Julius the Just" — was the first tough judge in American history.

But before anyone had heard of Judge Hoffman there was Judge Harold Medina of New York, and before Medina there was Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis of Chicago. They threw the book, as the phrase has it, at the defendants in federal cases and lived to be honored for it.

Judge Landis, back around 1907, fined the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana $29 million for alleged violation of the anti-trust laws in a freight rebate case. The decision failed to stand up when it was appealed to the Supreme Court, but Landis had made his reputation as an honest and fearless man.

As every baseball fan knows, his reward came when he was made czar of baseball after outfielder Shoeless Joe Jackson ("Say it ain't so, Joe") and other Chicago White Sox players were banned for life from the sport for throwing the 1919 World Series to the Cincinnati Reds.

Harold Medina's experience more closely paralleled that of Judge Hoffman, for in 1949 he had to endure a calculated campaign of insult and defamation while he was presiding over the Manhattan trial of 11 Communists charged with conspiracy. Medina was called a rat, a Fascist, and a Ku Kluxer. The Communists, knowing he had a fear of high places, picketed his court with placards which read: "Medina will fall like Forrestal," the allusion being to the fact that U.S. Secretary of Defense James Forrestal had, a month before the trial, leaped to his death from a hospital window.

Setting a precedent for Judge Hoffman, Medina jailed five defendants for contempt. He threatened to jug the defense lawyers after the trial was over, but, a more forgiving man than Hoffman, he finally desisted from penalizing the lawyers even though they had tried to obstruct proceedings in the court.

remembered as heroes, Judge Hoffman is having a tougher time in the present Age of Permissiveness. A lot of people think the conspiracy law under which David Dellinger, Jerry Rubin, Rennie Davis, Abbie Hoffman, Thomas Hayden, John G. Roines, and Lee Weiner were brought into Judge Hoffman's court will ultimately be declared unconstitutional.

Even so, this does not justify the attempt on the part of the defendants — and their lawyers — to turn a Federal courtroom into a seven-ring circus.

Conspiracy, since it involves "intent," may be a questionable matter under the First, or Free Speech, Amendment to the Constitution, but contempt of court is something else again.

Under the U.S. judicial system a trial is an attempt to arrive at truth, and even the lawyers for the defense are honor bound, as "officers of the court" to keep the proceedings from degenerating into a species of guerrilla warfare.

However, the defendants in Chicago were obviously bent on discrediting the whole judicial process, and their lawyers did not noticeably put in overtime trying to calm them down. The defendants even held a news conference on one occasion to announce plans for a country-wide drive against "the American judicial system," timed to coincide with Judge Hoffman's verdict.

So, whether "conspiracies" should be permitted or not, we know from the words of some of the Chicago defendants that a conspiracy to discredit the American court system exists.

In New York City, even while Judge Hoffman was meditating his contempt terms, obstreperous spectators had to be evicted for trying to disrupt pretrial hearings for 13 Black Panthers accused of plotting to bomb public places. The new Left has been doing its damnedest to create an atmosphere in which no prosecution of cases against Panthers, Yippies, New Leftists or SDS-ers can hope to succeed.

It is against this sort of "conspiracy" that Judge Hoffman has struck a mighty blow. In a different age he would be acclaimed a hero.

But if the New Left has its way, he'll end up as a bum — and our courts will go down the drain with him.

Letters To The Press

NOW THIS MESSAGE

Recently I have been amazed at how much know-how and knowledge the Democrats have acquired since Richard Nixon became President 13 months ago.

At that distant date neither the out-going president nor the Democratic senators and congressmen knew the answers to the problems that faced the nation. In fact, some of them were unaware that the nation faced, for instance, such a problem as Pollution.

At present the senators and congressmen of the Democratic persuasion seem to know all of the answers to Vietnam. Pollution, inflation or what have you? There is nothing like a Republican Administration to bring forth the know-how, the wisdom, the knowledge of the Democrats. During the nine years of the Democratic administrations, all of these same problems faced the nation, but none were resolved.

Now that there is a Republican administration the Democrats seem to have found all of the answers. Remarkable and miraculous, it seems to me.

Some 40 years ago, Michigan had a closed season on ruffed grouse. After five years of non-shooting, the ruffed grouse population had increased so that these lovely birds were plentiful in most places of the U. P.

In the 1930s there were several seasons of drought and a grass hopper plague not unlike that which the Lord sent upon Egypt in the time of Moses. To combat this plague of hoppers, the Game Division mixed up some kind of a mash which was supposed to poison the grasshoppers. This mash was placed on stumps, on the edges of open fields and elsewhere. The ruffed grouse, not being scientists, did not know that this mash was deadly to them. As a result the ruffed grouse population diminished until the grouse were as scarce as hen's teeth.

Of course the game biologists claimed that the poisoned mash had nothing to do with the decline of the grouse population.

Well, we were not convinced 40 years ago, and we are not convinced yet that the biologists were correct.

In the early 1930s and 1940s the white tailed deer were more than plentiful in the U. P. Then some people who had heard Dr. Alva Leopold speak on white tail deer control, or perhaps had read some of his writings, came up with the bright idea that the way to control the white tails was to shoot the does and fawns.

Perhaps 20 or 30 years ago, there was some excuse for entertaining this bright idea. However, Dr. Leopold has been deceased for more than 30 years, conditions have changed, but the Game Division biologists, having once read Dr. Leopold's writings, and not having read anything since then, are still ballyhooing the strange doctrine that to build up a herd of game shoot the breeding stock.

So the Game Division is still continuing the good professor's policy, with the result that white tails have just about disappeared in the U. P. Of course, the fact that the DNR gets the hunter's license fee October 1 or earlier, instead of in the month of December has nothing to do with this policy?

The U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Forest Service have added their bit to the despoliation of the natural environment and the demise of nature's wild children.

Recently, I saw a telecast of an area round and about Globe, Ariz., which the U. S. Forest Service had sprayed with a toxic chemical. The telecast pictured a white tail that was deformed, also a duck that could not fly, only hop about, and one small child that had been affected by the spray.

Of course the U. S. Forest

Opening lead—king of clubs.

Here is a gem of purest ray serene. The hand was played in Paris in 1964, and it would probably never have seen the light of day except that a highly observant kibitzer witnessed the deal and recorded it for posterity.

West, the young French star Jean-Marc Roudinesco, led the king of clubs, which held, and had a very difficult play to make at trick two. After considering the matter thoroughly and paying due obeisance to dummy's threatening diamonds, he shifted to a low spade.

Undoubtedly Roudinesco hoped to find East with the K-J-10 or K-x, or at least J-10-x, but, whatever his thoughts, the low spade was the most effective play he could make.

Declarer won East's ten with the king and drew three rounds of trumps, planning to next lead toward the A-K of diamonds in dummy and let West win the queen whenever he chose to play it. In that way South would keep East out of the lead and score four diamond tricks to make the contract.

But Roudinesco, who recognized that declarer might be plotting this very play, made his second brilliant move on the hand when, on the third round of trumps, he discarded the queen of diamonds!

Roudinesco was aware that the queen of diamonds was of no earthly use to him—regardless of whether East or South held the jack—and he treated it as a millstone about his neck.

At this point the kibitzer was called to the telephone and left the table confident that Roudinesco's magnificent defense would prove highly successful. However, when the kibitzer returned soon after, he learned to his surprise that South had actually made the contract—but how he did so is a story that will have to wait for tomorrow.

Service denied that these animals birds and children had been affected by the spray. What burns this scribe up is that claims are made by government agencies that later on prove to be false. Why do not these agencies seek to learn the long range effects of their efforts?

They certainly have the money and the men to make careful examination. Hindsight, is of course much better than foresight, but this, our nation, can no longer afford to guess when dealing with the natural environment.

For more than half a century, I have preached the benefits of conserving the natural environment. I was an early disciple of Gov. Gifford Pinchot, the first professional forester in the USA, 1898-1910. Also, I was a disciple of Teddy Roosevelt, one of the foremost conservationists in American history. Some 35 years ago, I was a member of an anti-pollution committee. Even at that early date we were attempting to clean our lakes and streams from pollution.

Neither Gov. Pinchot, or President Teddy, or I could make a dent in the case-hardened armor of the despoilers of the natural environment. Americans have always got all they could take and taken all they could get, until now this nation and most of the world faces a crisis of such proportions that it staggers the imagination.

At present, the politicians have got on the band wagon, and if "the past is prologue" then only a meager portion of the huge sums the President has said are necessary to meet the crisis will reach their destination. The largest portion of these funds will most likely end up in the pockets of pay-rollers, political hacks, and what have you? Nuff said.

Ann Landers

Mate Credits Brush For 'Wedded Bliss'

Dear Ann Landers: I decided the next time you printed a letter against wife-spanking I would write and tell you off. Today is the day.

My wife has always been stubborn and rock-headed. Her father told me when I married her that the only way to keep Laura in line was to turn her over my knee and spank her with a hairbrush. In fact, he gave me a hairbrush for a wedding present.

Laura and I have been married 12 years and I've used that brush dozens of times. It would be no exaggeration to say the hairbrush has kept our marriage together.

And now I'm going to turn this letter over to Laura so she can tell you how she feels about it. — Sincerely yours, H. L. K.

Dear Ann Landers: You are wrong about wife-spanking. Henry spansks me when I need it. I'm glad he has the good sense to be boss. If more husbands spanked their wives, there would be fewer divorces.

After a spanking, Henry and I usually make love and we don't even remember what we quarreled about. I'll bet hundreds of couples besides Henry and me end their little tiffs this way. Now, what do you think, Ann Landers?—Henry's Bad Girl.

Dear Girl: I think the solution is wonderful—for a couple of nuts like you and Henry. Obviously, the rocks in your head match the holes in his. Please keep my address handy. When the spankings turn into beatings, you might want to write again.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a young mother with a big problem. I became involved with a married man. He said he loved me and I believed him. Now I'm supporting a 7-month-old daughter.

I had a miserable pregnancy and hated the baby before she was born. The minute I saw her my whole world changed. I knew I could never give her up. Now I'm working two jobs to support us and believe me, it's not easy.

I've been "laid off" (fired) twice in the last six months. Everyone is great until they find out I have a child. Then they treat me like I have small-pox. I have never been married so I go by Miss Smith. I should tell you, Ann, I am only 16-years-old. It is very hard to be looked down on and left out of things. How long will I have to pay for my one mistake? What should I do?—Tulsa Troubles

Dear Tulsa: For openers you can call yourself Mrs. Smith. A young woman with a child who introduces herself as Miss Smith hangs a sign around her neck that says, "Kick me." If someone asks about your husband simply say, "I am not married." The details are nobody's business. I'm not suggesting you lie, but I am recommending that you keep your personal history to yourself until you are well enough established to overcome the prejudice. Unfair? Perhaps, but this is the penalty for breaking the rules.

Confidential to In Love With A Machine: One of the reasons he's such a howling success (financially, that is) is because he is driven. Of course he's neurotic. This is one of the qualities that made him rich.

Do you feel ill at ease out of it? Is everybody having a good time but you? Write for Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key To Popularity," enclosing with your request 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed and stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed and stamped envelope.

Fatal Accident Bill Revision Advocated

LANSING (AP) — A speeding driver roars through a stop light, a woman is killed, leaving a family without a wife and mother.

Can damages be collected? Not unless she was employed or the family can show financial loss, says Michigan law.

Had she lived, it could have been a different story. The driver might be hit with a lawsuit for medical bills and personal suffering.

A bill to change the law—to permit survivors to file for damages in wrongful death cases regardless of whether there was financial loss—has won House approval and now is in the Senate commerce committee.

Rep. Daniel Cooper, D-Oak Park, sponsor of the bill, says the change has been needed for a long time.

"If a wife and mother is killed," he says, "the survivors have a right to go into court and ask that her value to them be translated into money."

This applies only in cases where the death results from a wrongful act—not from accidents in which there is no crime. It also applies to children as well as parents.

Opponents in the House argued that insurance rates might go up because this would be opening the door to big damage claims.

Cooper not only agrees that they should be large.

However, he says there is nothing to show that the change in the law would result in a hike in insurance rates.

"I doubt if we would have 300 cases a year," he said.

The measure passed by a vote of 64-40 this month.

A thought behind the bill is that while it is hard to place a monetary value on a life, the survivors indeed have a right to compensation for wrongful death.

The bill covers not only immediate deaths, but also "injuries resulting in death."

Not just anyone could file for damages, however.

They would be limited to those "entitled to inherit the personal property" of the victim if he or she had died without a will.

There is no indication as to when the Senate may consider the measure.

Snowmobiles Big Problem Now; Future Could Be Even Worse

By LARRY KURTZ

LANSING (AP) — The day of the versatile vehicle is at hand.

And bracing for an acceleration boom, Michigan officials are trying to look years beyond the snowmobile craze of today.

A time is coming soon when man, using all sorts of motorized rigs, will hover, crawl, float, slide and clamber over vast stretches of countryside and waterways.

Inevitable conflicts will come into focus suddenly and sharply as nature lovers, hunters, fishermen and backwoods property owners find their solitude invaded by motorized fun-seekers preferring riding to walking.

Problems Of Safety

There also will be problems of safety on public roads, of protecting hills and streams from permanent damage and of balancing conflicting interests of those who share outdoor recreation.

Example:

A family wants to sleep in its out-of-the-way cabin. But the roar of snowmobiles nearby goes far into the night. A fisherman goes to his favorite hole, but it has been ruined by amphibious vehicles ripping up the bank. Farmers find fences knocked down by wheeled trespassers. Hunters search vainly for game scared away by sight and sound of weird contraptions.

People concerned with regulation see a troublesome tomorrow rapidly approaching.

New Vehicles Likely

"It will surprise us," says John Anguilm, chief enforcement officer for the Department of Natural Resources. "Overland vehicles will probably equal snowmobiles in numbers within a few years."

Michigan now has more than 90,000 registered snowmobiles and perhaps one-third as many unregistered ones, by State Police estimate.

There will be a big increase in so-called "all-terrain vehicles" in the next year, says State Police Director Fredrick Davids.

"And jet belts are right around the corner," he adds. "They will put the hunter on the side of a hill a lot faster than if he walked. It sounds a bit 'Buck Rogersish; far-fetched, but so did snowmobiles several years ago."

Regulations Eyed

In their concern for regulation, Anguilm and Davids both insist they do not want to hamper the growth of recreational vehicles. Rather, they say, it is essential to have rules within which a number of interests can be balanced.

"It is our responsibility," says Davids, "to try to stay ahead, rather than get caught behind as we did with snowmobiles."

State Police say the biggest problems have come from operation of snowmobiles on roads and frozen waters and trespassing on private property.

Fifteen snowmobilers have been killed since the snow season started in December, including five who drowned when their vehicles broke through ice.

Maj. Paul Gaboury of the State Police recently was at a snowmobile conference in Duluth, Minn., attended by representatives of several states and Canadian provinces.

Laws Inadequate

There was general agreement, he said, that existing laws are "stop-gap" and inadequate.

He said there is a need for better identification — perhaps serial numbers such as on automobiles—because of large numbers of thefts.

Davids says cabins which used to be isolated by winter snow now are accessible to thieves on snowmobiles, thereby posing a new problem.

From the wildlife and conservation standpoint, Anguilm says there is reason for concern—especially over the all-terrain vehicles which can tear up parts of state parks, game areas and campgrounds.

Restraints Needed

The result may be restriction this summer on the type of vehicles permitted in such areas. As for snowmobiles, Anguilm says:

"Snowmobiling is a fine sport and we don't want to kill it. But we do need regulation and I think we're moving carefully toward necessary restraints."

A bill now before the Legislature would tighten up snowmobile regulations. Meanwhile, a substitute has been drawn up which would bring other off-road devices under the same statute.

The measure, which has the support of the State Police and the Department of Natural Resources, would prohibit snowmobiles and other off-road vehicles from being on any portion of highway, ditches, or right of way. Persons under 14 would be prohibited from operating them, except on private property.

Just Don't Mix

"Snowmobiles and motor vehicles just don't mix," says Gaboury. And by bringing other off-road vehicles under the regulation, he says the state will "at least have some kind of control" when their popularity enjoys a sudden spurt.

A number of land-roving vehicles already are in use now. Two mentioned by state officials as likely to catch popular fancy on a grand scale in coming years are the amphibious rigs which can crawl over rugged territory as well as float down a stream; and hovering vehicles which move along a few feet off the ground, kept aloft by a steady air blast against the surface.

Costs Out Of Sight

Costs on some recreational rigs of the future are out of sight for a large portion of the population, but that may change within a few short years.

State Police Sgt. Donald Calcaterra says that in view of the growing popularity of recreational vehicles, driver education should be stressed and perhaps some thought given to special operating licenses.

As Davids says: "A lot of people have two snowmobiles now."

And by official proclamation of Gov. William Milliken, this week is Snowmobile Week in Michigan.

Three From State Die In Tennessee Traffic Mishap

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Three Michigan residents were killed in a car-bus collision near Nashville Sunday night and a third was injured.

Two-Child Family Is Ideal, Says R. Finch

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top Nixon administration official says parents should limit their families to two children if they want to help start improving the quality of life in America.

Robert H. Finch, secretary of health, education and welfare, disclosed his two-child suggestion in a speech Wednesday night before an opening session of a conference on the environment.

The secretary, describing overpopulation as a paramount concern that must be dealt with if other environmental problems are to be solved, said "the best job we can do now" is make birth control information available to more women.

In a question and answer period, he was asked what people could do on a voluntary basis to improve the environment.

"I would begin with recommending that they start with two children," Finch said. "Beyond that, there are many other voluntary commitments others can do." He did not give specifics on the last point.

He also said the government might have to offer "disincentives" to discourage parents from starting big families but he did not spell out what he meant.

Philip Handler, president of the National Academy of Sciences, echoed Finch's remarks, saying "the greatest threat to the human race is man's own procreation."

Handler said the United States is expected to have 100 million more people by the year 2000. He said virtually all the nation's domestic ills stem from the rapidly growing population.

Finch touched on overpopulation at one other point in his talk.

"Unless the American people are really prepared to pay pollution 'taxes' and meet the costs of environmental restoration—costs that may range from less powerful autos to less frequently occupied bassinets—no political authority can control the excesses of affluence or rampant technology."

Finch called on industry and science to find other ways to cope with the problems of the environment.

Bowery Patrols Keep Men Alive Another Day

By NAOMI ROCK
AP Newsfeatures Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Heads bent into the wind and coats clutched close, the patrolers picked their way over the icy, snow-covered pavements, trying to ignore the biting wind that was sweeping over The Bowery.

In twos and threes they walked past the decrepit tenements and shuttered storefronts, looking in doorways and peering down darkened streets.

Nothing.
John M. and Lila S., volunteers in the Toward Community program, crossed The Bowery—the wide main street which traverses the rundown Bowery section of lower Manhattan.

Ignore the cold. Keep walking. Keep moving. Even on this brutal night some men would be out, too numb to sense the danger of freezing.

Patrol Once Weekly

For Lila, a high school teacher, and John, a city social worker, it was another of their once-a-week patrol nights. They were looking for homeless men—men in need of a meal, of lodging, of the knowledge that someone cares.

At 8:05 p. m. eight patrolers had left the Quakers' 15th Street Friends Meeting House, about half a mile north of the beginning of The Bowery. It was close to 9 before they found someone who needed help.

They saw him huddled within a threadbare overcoat, hatless and gloveless, lying on the ice and snow against a building. He was unshaven, unkempt, of indeterminate age. He smelled of drink.

"My friend," said John, "it's cold out here. You shouldn't be out tonight."

John reached down and shook the man gently. The man shuddered and stirred.

"My friend," John repeated, "you shouldn't be out on the street. Will you let us help you find shelter for the night?"

The man raised his head. His bloodshot eyes darted back and forth, from Lila to John, from John to Lila.

"I don't need help," he muttered.

"But you'll freeze to death," Lila pleaded, bending low and offering her arm. "Please, won't you come with us?"

The man eyed her momentarily. Then he struggled to stand.

"Where are we going?" he asked.

"To the Municipal Shelter," Lila replied.

"I won't go there. It's a hell hole," the man mumbled.

"Have you got any money?" John asked.

"No," said the man.

Walk Tortuous

Bracing him between them, Lila and John helped the man to his feet. They then began the tortuous eight block walk to a large, run-down city facility, where derelicts are sheltered, free of charge, overnight.

Once there John pulled open a heavy iron door, and with Lila's aid, steered the man up a flight of stairs and into a large reception hall. John spoke briefly to a supervisor and then, taking the man's arm, led him to an adjacent room—a bare room about the size of a gymnasium, with cracked and peeling pea green walls.

About 60 or 70 men, all of them ragged and unkempt, many of them smelling of alcohol, were standing around, sitting on folding chairs, or lying on stretcher-cots on the floor.

John and Lila led their charge to a cot, and helped him lie down.

"Come to see us," Lila said, handing him a small blue business card with Toward Community's address and phone number, and the hours its center is open.

"We'd like to help you in any way we can," Lila added, bidding the man goodbye as they turned to leave.

Out on the street John remarked to a visitor:

"The Muni is a miserable place, but in most cases it's our only recourse," he said.

"We can take the men there to keep them from freezing to death."

"That's our main goal — to keep each man alive for just one more day. Rarely can we do more than that."

"So many of the men drink themselves numb," John continued, as his gaze wandered over the tenements in search of shadows. "Alcohol deadens them to the cold. They don't know they're in danger."

Not All Alcoholics

"Only 40 per cent of the so-called Bowery bums are alcoholics. The rest are just desperate, lonely people."

He paused, rubbing his hands against his jacket and adjusting the eye glasses that help make him appear much younger than his 36 years. Then he continued:

"Every time I look at them I can't help thinking, 'There but for the grace of God...' I was an alcoholic for ten years. I started drinking seriously as a teen-ager. I quit nine years ago with the help of Alcoholics Anonymous. Now I must do something."

"I'd heard about The Bowery derelicts, and one day I saw them," said Lila, a tall, attractive woman in her 20s.

"For me it was a direct way of helping people... and of helping myself," she continued.

"It gives me great satisfaction to be doing something meaningful, something other than writing to newspapers and contributing to charities."

First Visit Recalled

"At first I flinched when I had to touch these men, to shake hands with them. It took time. Now I warm up to them immediately because they respond so to human kindness."

Lila joined Toward Community in the fall of 1968, two years after it was founded by a group of Quakers at the 15th Street Meeting House. The group had acted after some boys doused a Bowery bum with gasoline and set him afire, just for "kicks."

Toward Community operates out of the 15th Street Meeting House, and runs a community center and counselling service in space donated by the nearby Moravian Church.

Three nights a week, the year round, its volunteers—most of them not Quakers—take turns patrolling The Bowery. They are there to help anyone who is sick or injured or suffering from the effects of alcohol or drugs.

The volunteers and two full-time staff members also provide follow-up assistance—visiting the men in hospitals, taking them to agencies that might be able to help with their problems, and spending time talking to them at Toward Community's fellowship center.

Five Detroiters Jailed Following Protest Scuffle

DETROIT (AP) — Five persons are free on bond pending examination on charges arising from a demonstration in downtown Detroit Saturday.

The five were arrested when scuffling erupted during a demonstration called to protest verdicts in the Chicago Seven conspiracy trial.

All were released on $500 bond pending examination next Monday following arraignments Sunday.

Gregorio Orta, 20, was charged with assaulting police officers. Norman McKee, 22, was charged with felonious assault for allegedly throwing bottles at police cars.

Police said Larry Powell, 28, jumped on to the back of a patrolman and that Owen Love, 20, and Laura Willoughby, 19, blocked police officers coming to the aid of the man allegedly attacked by Powell.

A spokesman for the National Committee to Combat Fascism said that Powell and the other did not attack officers but became involved when police started beating blacks.

A sixth person was arrested but was not immediately charged.

Donation

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. donated more than $3.45 million worth of automotive equipment to educational institutions in 1969, the firm has announced. Ford said it was the most equipment ever donated by the company in a single year.

ROCK ON THE WAVES

NEW YORK (AP)—There have been classical music cruises of the Mediterranean. Now there's going to be a rock cruise to Bermuda.

From March 20-26, about the Queen Anna Maria, 1,000 passengers—who have to be over 18—can hear rock almost any time they want to. A number of rock groups booked for the cruise ship will play three times a day and whenever else they think it's groovy. Groups signed thus far are Catfish, Boffalongo, Love Cry Want, Cherry Family, Mustard Family and Tractor. Moondog also will be on board, to write music for the cruise.

Richard Groff, president of Love Promotions Inc., which has arranged the rock cruise, is doing it because he liked Woodstock but he didn't like the mud, and wants to get away from it all.

Pill Hearings Will Continue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hearings that produced sensational testimony on side effects of the pill resume Tuesday after a recess marked by political infighting among factions on the sponsoring Senate subcommittee.

Witnesses at last month's five-day hearings before the minority subcommittee of the Select Small Business Committee emphasized suspected harmful effects of birth control pills.

The testimony produced complaints the witness list was stacked against the pill by the subcommittee chairman, Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis.

Sen. Jacob Javits of New York, the subcommittee's ranking Republican, contended the panel had overreached its area by conducting the pill hearings and, in a closed meeting of the parent committee, reportedly said the drug industry feels it is being persecuted.

A few days later, an industry newsletter claimed victory in its three-year campaign to silence hearings by the subcommittee that have uncovered cases of exorbitant pricing and promotion of unsafe and ineffective drugs.

Both Nelson and Sen. Alan B. B. chairman of the Small Business Committee, denied the subcommittee had been muzzled.

Meanwhile, a behind-the-scenes feud among Senate staff aides came to light last week with word the Republican counsel to the subcommittee was planning to take a job with a Wall Street law firm that numbers among its clients the nation's sixth largest drug company, James Duffy, 28, confirmed plans to join Cravath, Swaine & Moore.

But he vigorously denied knowing its clients included the drug firm, Squibb Beech-Nut Corp., or that he got the job because he has defended the industry in hearings.

Frank Cummings, an aide to Javits, echoed these denials, but acknowledged he had assigned Duffy to the subcommittee with specific instructions to make sure the industry's side of the story got told. He charged that Ben Gordon, the Democratic chief counsel, "runs a biased hearing and everybody knows it."

Cummings added, however, that he told Duffy a month ago to stop defending the drug makers.

Gordon declined comment on selection of witnesses. But he has said previously that in lining up witnesses it was impossible to find any medical person who would flatly declare the pill safe and free from harmful effects.

Prince Charles Fluffs His Lines

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP) — Prince Charles won the biggest laugh of the show when he fluffed his lines in a satirical review at Cambridge University.

"This doesn't happen on the BBC," said the 21-year-old student heir to the throne. "I don't know what the hell comes next."

The future king was dressed in a gas mask and blue rubber flippers for his role as a television weather forecaster. The fluff occurred in a preview showing Sunday of "Quiet Flows the Don," which satirizes fond, traditions and university dons.

GLADSTONE

SCOUTS OF TROOP 466 surround their klondike sled Sunday after completing a 52 mile hike which began Friday morning near Steuben. (Daily Press Photo)

50 Miles Over Snow....

By DAVE ANDREWS

A group of 10 boys and two men arrived at the Gladstone Ski Park Sunday, 52 miles and about 45 degrees from where they were Friday.

The boys, all members of Boy Scout Troop 466 of Gladstone, and their leaders, Jack VanBroeklin and Kenneth Ziems, completed a 52-mile hike at the clubhouse and will qualify for the Scout "50 Miler" award.

Requirements say a Scout has to make 50 miles, by foot or on foot, VanBroeklin explained, but most of them do it carrying a pack in the warm weather of summer.

"We did it the hard way," he grinned.

When the boys left Steuben in the Hiawatha National Forest about 7:10 a.m. Friday the temperature reading was 10 below zero. Perhaps because of the frigid temperature and the need to keep moving to stay warm they covered 23.7 miles the first day before stopping to make camp about three quarters of a mile from Federal Forest Highway 13.

Saturday, the hike led to a camping spot near Bill's Creek east of the Whitefish River and Sunday about 2:05 p.m. the group trudged up the hill to the Gladstone Ski Club clubhouse, pulling behind them in dog team fashion a Klondike sled jammed with sleeping bags and other outdoor gear. The temperature was in the mid-30s.

The hiking party's arrival was timed to coincide with activities at the Ski Club's annual Winter Carnival Sunday.

The boys, although admittedly a "little" tired, all were in high spirits. Some allowed they were "foot weary."

"Mr. Ziems," VanBroeklin said, "walked the entire 52 miles with the boys. He's got blisters on his blisters."

"Everything went well," Ziems said. "We didn't have any problems."

VanBroeklin said that after the fast start on Friday (23.7 miles), the boys slowed down somewhat Saturday but on Sunday seemed to get their "second wind" and were "really working together as a team."

Members of the troop on the hike were Jim and John DeKeyser, Alan Heynssens, Doug Aas, Dan McCarthy, Mike Ziems, Wayne Scholtz, Dick Protenhauer, John Dehlin and Jerry Meyers. Jim DeKeyser was the group leader.

"We've got an active troop," said VanBroeklin of Troop 466 sponsored by the Gladstone Rotary Club. "There are nine assistant scoutmasters and we've always got something like this going."

Judging from the grins on their faces as they came up the hill to the end of the hike Sunday, the boys love it.

Iowa Nearing Big Ten Title

CHICAGO (AP) — The Iowa Hawkeyes have eliminated everyone but defending champion Purdue from the Big Ten basketball race and time is beginning to run out on the Boilermakers.

The Hawkeyes took to the road last week and went home with important victories over Illinois and Ohio State to run their conference record to 10-0.

Purdue, 8-2, came up with a big triumph by defeating Illinois 88-81 Saturday afternoon.

Undismayed, Iowa carved a 97-89 decision at Ohio State and holds a two-game lead over Purdue with four to play.

In other games Saturday, Michigan defeated Minnesota 95-87, Michigan State rolled past Indiana 78-66 and Northwestern downed Wisconsin 82-75.

Iowa has an excellent chance of clinching a tie for the title Tuesday night. The Hawkeyes are at home and should beat Northwestern which has collected only two Big Ten victories this season.

Purdue, however, plays at Minnesota Tuesday night and the Gophers have yet to lose a Big Ten game at home this campaign. Other conference games Tuesday find Michigan at Indiana, Illinois at MICHIGAN State and Ohio State at Wisconsin.

If Purdue can win at Minnesota, the Boilermakers could make things a bit warm for Iowa. The two contenders meet at Purdue Saturday.

Iowa's final two games of the regular season are at home against Ohio State March 3 and at Northwestern March 7. Purdue is at Michigan State March 3 and at home against Minnesota March 7.

Both contenders had brilliant individual performances in last Saturday's triumphs. Rick Mount poured in 40 points for Purdue while John Johnson scored 38 for Iowa. Rudy Tomjanovich paced Michigan's triumph with 37 points and super soph Ralph Simpson scored 33 to lead Michigan State. Northwestern had six players in double figures led by Dale Kelley's 20 points.

Major Leagues Having Problems With Players

You can't tell the players without a scorecard... or without a summons... or without a road map... or without a ticker tape... or without an adding machine.

Major league baseball players are having trouble putting hits, runs and errors on the spring training scoreboards because major league teams are having trouble putting players on the field.

Item: Star pitcher Denny McLain of the Detroit Tigers suspended for involvement in bookmaking activities.

Item: Tiger infielder Ike Brown gets summons to appear in court in connection with a year-old auto accident.

Item: Tiger Shortstop Cesar Gutierrez stranded at his home in Venezuela, unable to get a visa.

Item: Pitcher Vicente Romo finally makes it from Mexico to Winter Haven, Fla., for his first workout with the Boston Red Sox. He was due last Tuesday.

Item: Catcher Tom Satriano given permission to report late to the Red Sox so he can take a CPA examination in California.

Item: Relief pitcher Ron Peranowski has until March 7 to while he completes a brokerage report to the Minnesota Twins training camp in New York.

In the wake of McLain's stunning suspension last Thursday, the Tiger camp at Lakeland, Fla., was involved in an incident with a sheriff's representative a day later.

"It was about a car accident my wife had about a year ago," Brown, an off-season resident of Lakeland, explained Sunday. "The other guy didn't have any insurance, but now we have to go to court about it."

Charley Creedon, the Tigers' traveling secretary, described the clubhouse incident.

"A girl from the sheriff's department came to the clubhouse with a summons for Ike but John Hand, equipment manager, wouldn't let her in the gate. She wanted to go on the field to serve it but he wouldn't let her and she got all upset."

"She got even more upset when John made her move her car for illegally parking in front of the clubhouse."

Hand said he wanted to cooperate but the woman was very belligerent and even let him know she carried a gun "and said she wasn't afraid to use it."

"She got so mad she said she was going to the sheriff's office and have me arrested," Hand said. "And when I made her move her car she almost

Pistons Waste Big Lead; Nip Hawks By Two Points

By The Associated Press

The Detroit Pistons blew a 25-point lead and then rallied late in the game to trim Atlanta 116-114 in a National Basketball Association battle Sunday night.

The Pistons had built a 66-41 lead over the Western Division leading Hawks with less than two minutes remaining in the first half.

But Atlanta's Joe Caldwell ignited a Hawk rally in the third period by scoring 14 points while Detroit tallied 15 to cut the Pistons lead to 86-84 entering the final quarter.

In other NBA action Sunday, Milwaukee blasted Phoenix 144-124, Seattle nipped San Francisco 131-127, Cincinnati drubbed Philadelphia 136-116 and Los Angeles whipped Boston 108-96.

On Saturday, Atlanta smashed New York 122-106, Milwaukee topped Seattle 140-127, Cincinnati downed Chicago 127-119, Philadelphia shaded Detroit 112-110, San Diego trounced Los Angeles 121-106 and San Francisco took Boston 116-111.

In the American Basketball Association Sunday, Kentucky walloped Miami 151-128, Charlotte edged New York 101-97, Washington outlasted Los Angeles 135-128, and Denver downed New Orleans 113-107.

Pistons Otto Moore and Terry Dischinger divided six points between them in the final two and one-half minutes to give Detroit a 114-110 edge with 54 seconds to go.

Howard Komives' two free throws with five seconds remaining proved to be the difference as Dony Ohl sank a gift field goal at the buzzer.

Jimmy Walker led Detroit with 24 points while Dave Bing had 21 and Komives had 16. Lou Hudson added 21 points and Walt Bellamy 17 for the Hawks.

Moments before Detroit had its greatest lead, the game was interrupted briefly when Atlanta's Jim Davis took a poke at Komives but missed. But Komives sank three straight free throws as a result of the provocation.

The Bullets, with Earl Monroe gunning in 37 points, edged New York 119-104 Sunday to snap a string of nine straight losses to New York, dating back to the 1968-69 National Basketball Association season.

New York, down 82-70 late in the third quarter shot into a 95-93 lead midway through the final period, but then Baltimore put on a 13-4 spurt to clinch it. Walt Frazier led New York with 30 points.

With Flynn Robinson scoring 25 points, Milwaukee erupted for 84 points in the second half to drub Phoenix. Lew Alcindor poured in 34 points, John McGlocklin 31 and Robinson 28 for the Bucks. Connie Hawkins paced Phoenix with 25.

Seattle fought off a San Francisco rally on the scoring of Bob Rule who got 11 of his 30 points in the fourth quarter. Joe Ellis, who led the San Francisco rally with 18 points in the final period, finished with 34.

Connie Dierking connected on 14 of 22 field goal attempts and 17 of 21 free throws for a pro career high 45 points in sparking Cincinnati over Philadelphia. Archie Clark and Billy Cunningham each scored 32 points for Philadelphia.

Fred Hetzel of Philadelphia was taken to a Cincinnati hospital before the game, suffering from severe stomach pains. He was listed in fair condition and was undergoing observation for possible appendicitis, a hospital spokesman said.

Elgin Baylor, playing the entire 48 minutes, scored 39 points, 14, in the fourth quarter, and grabbed 17 rebounds as Los Angeles moved to within two games of Atlanta by beating Boston. Jerry West did not play for Los Angeles. John Havlicek led Boston with 26 points.

Wasting Money Out For Horton

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Willie Horton doesn't expect to be another athlete who falls victim to poor money management.

The 26-year-old star, who played baseball at Detroit Northwestern High School, was born in a coal mine region of Virginia.

"I was the baby of 21 kids... so I know what it is to be hungry," he recalled. "And I'm making sure my family doesn't have such a life."

The Tiger press book lists Horton's birthday as Oct. 18, 1942, but he said he was born in 1943.

"The trouble is I don't even have a birth certificate to prove it," he said. "They didn't care much about birth certificates in those coal towns."

"But it doesn't make any difference. When I become a millionaire, who will care less if I have a birth certificate? They'll be worried more about my money than my birthday," Horton laughed.

Horton, who grew a mustache during the off season, walked out of Tiger Stadium during a game last May, seemingly as a result of booing by the fans for a spell of poor play.

"It was the sum of many things involving some personal problems," he said. "And I guess the booing just made me feel worse. I have no hate for the fans. They pay for the right to cheer or boo. I felt ashamed of letting down my teammates."

"But that's in the past," he added. "My attitude is good. I'm in good shape, and I'm hoping for a good year."

"I figure I've got about six more good years in baseball," said the shy slugger. "And then I'd like to get into some little business like the grocery store or something."

"Besides, I don't miss the

Stephenson Nips Gladstone Quint In Last Quarter

By MIKE UTT
GLADSTONE—Is experience really necessary to win basketball games? Ask Jack Ingalls, the coach of the Gladstone Braves, after his team dropped a 63-60 decision to the Stephenson Eagles Saturday night.

Gladstone appeared to have complete control of the game until the 3:14 mark of the third quarter, when Cliff Young, the Braves' leading scorer and only returning regular from last year's squad, injured his ankle driving for a layup and had to be removed from the game. The Braves were leading by a 48-40 margin at the time and they had held leads of as many as 12 points at different times during the evening.

After Young left the game, the Eagles tossed in five points in a row to cut Gladstone's lead to just three points, 48-45, but a field goal and a pair of free throws by Bob Prins of the Braves enabled Gladstone to take a 51-47 lead into the fourth quarter.

Young returned to the Gladstone lineup just before Stephenson took the lead by one point, 56-55, on a three-point play by guard Ken Chaney with three minutes left in the game. The Eagles then threw in five more points before Lynn Apelgren brought Gladstone back within four points, 61-57, with a field goal. Chaney and Young traded free throws before Young brought Gladstone to within two points, 62-60, with a field goal with just nine seconds showing on the clock.

Chaney then put the icing on the cake for Stephenson with a field goal at the four second mark.

After Stephenson scored the first two points of the game, the Braves scored 11 straight points, thanks to some fine shooting and ball handling by the flashy Young. The Eagles came to life late in the period and trailed by a 16-10 margin at the buzzer.

Three free throws brought Stephenson to within three points, 66-63, early in the second period, but the Braves started to roll soon after behind Young and Bill Murphy. They carried leads of eight and nine points throughout the rest of the period before moving ahead by 11 points, 41-30, at halftime on a spectacular shot by Young from midcourt at the buzzer.

Murphy was Gladstone's big gun in the second period, tossing in 11 points.

Gladstone upped its lead to 12 points early in the third period on field goals by Prins and Apelgren, before Stephenson put on a rally to cut the gap to 48-40. Young was injured then and the complexion of the game completely turned around.

Murphy threw in 17 points to lead the Braves in the scoring department, while Apelgren helped out with 14 and Young finished with 13.

Barry Hafeman of Stephenson took scoring honors in the game with 23 points, 11 of which came at the free throw line, and Chaney wound up with 14.

Gladstone made one more field goal than Stephenson, 22-21, but came up short at the free throw line, making 16 of 24 attempts while the Eagles were 21 of 36.

Rock Records 69-48 Victory

ROCK — The Rock Little Giants ran their regular season record to 2-13 Saturday afternoon by scoring a 69-48 victory over Watersmeet in a non-conference contest.

Oddly enough, Rock's only other victory this season was a 51-44 decision over this same Watersmeet team. The Little Giants have an overall 4-14 mark on the season with one game remaining, as they scored two victories during the Central League Holiday Tournament.

Rock jumped out to a 32-19 lead in the first half Saturday and then coasted home by scoring 37 points in the second half compared to Watersmeet's 29.

Tom Lippens paced Rock in the scoring column with 24 points. No other player from either team was able to score in double figures.

Red Wings Drop Behind In Playoff Berth Race

By The Associated Press
A 10-0 loss to the Montreal Canadiens Sunday night plunked the Detroit Red Wings solidly in the National Hockey League Eastern Division's fifth place.

The defeat dropped Detroit one point behind Chicago, in the race for the final playoff spot. In NHL play Saturday, Chicago beat New York 4-2; Detroit outlasted Toronto 7-5; Boston topped Minnesota 4-2; Oakland whipped Pittsburgh 6-3 and St. Louis took Los Angeles 4-2.

In the only Sunday game Chicago beat Boston 6-3.

The meet with the Canadiens Sunday marked the first time Detroit dropped out of fourth place since Nov. 27.

It was Jean Beliveau returning to his old form, who set up the lone goal when he won a faceoff to the left of Detroit goalie Roy Edwards and sent the puck to Cournoyer. Cournoyer moved right in on Edwards and banged in his 23rd goal of the season.

Moments later Cournoyer scored on his shot to break the blank tie.

Bobby Hull has started on his second 500 goals—a fact that is vital to the New York Rangers—and Yvan Cournoyer is closing in on his 150th—a fact equally vital to the Chicago Black Hawks.

Hull reached No. 500 with a pair of Saturday night goals that moved Chicago past New York 4-2, and then started on his second 500 Sunday with a goal that helped the Black Hawks knock off Boston 6-3.

Hull was accorded a standing ovation by the Chicago fans, who saluted his 500th goal Saturday night and the Black Hawks continued the celebration by blitzing Boston with four first period goals Sunday.

Mikita, who has won the NHL scoring title in four of the last six seasons, continued his fabulous February with his 34th and 35th goals of the season and two more assists increasing his point total to 76.

The Hawk center is third in the league, two shy of Boston's Phil Esposito and 16 away from Bobby Orr of the Bruins, who is bidding to become the first defenseman ever to win the scoring title.

Chicago has lost only four of the last 22 games and has stormed into fourth place, only four points back of Montreal. The slumping Canadiens snapped out of it with consecutive weekend wins over Philadelphia and Detroit and Cournoyer played a major role in each.

The speedy right winger scored two goals and assisted on two others Saturday night and then tallied the only goal of the game Sunday against the Red Wings. It was his 20th of the season and 145th of his NHL career.

The victory moved the Canadiens within three points of Boston which slipped back to second place as the Rangers whipped Toronto.

Ron Stewart's short-handed goal broke a first period tie and put New York on top for keeps against the Maple Leafs. The Rangers also got power goals from Dave Balon and Bob Nevin. Bill Fairbairn's 21st and Walt Tkaczuk's 25th completed the Rangers' scoring.

George Armstrong, Rick Ley and Bob Pulford scored the Leaf goals—all on power plays.

Peninsula Preps Close 1969-70 Cage Campaign

By JIM TRETHEWEY

The Upper Peninsula wraps up another high school basketball campaign this week, pausing only to pick first-round opponents for the start of post-season tournaments in March.

Schedule makers couldn't have done a better job in arranging season-ending competition in the Great Northern and Skyline Conferences. The finish in the Porcupine Mountains circuit could be another exciting affair.

In the Great Northern, it'll be defending champion Menominee against Escanaba. The Maroons grabbed a two-point decision in an earlier meeting. This time the two outfits, after knocking Escanaba Holy Name out of the running, enter their showdown tussle with identical 7-2 marks.

Two western Marquette County quintets invade Powers with a chance of overtaking the Skyline pace-setters.

Champion, which at 15-2 has the second-best mark among U.P. Class D teams, is just half a game back of the Tigers, while Republic is two games off the pace. The latter tackles Powers first, then it's Champion's turn three nights later.

Bergland, Porcupine Mountains leader, likely will have the conference championship won by the time it meets second-place White Pine. But if the Vikings—beaten only by Glidden, Wis.—should lose to Watersmeet, then the White Pine Warriors would have a chance of deadlocking for the title.

The Great Lakes Conference race also remains to be settled, but only an upset of major proportions can keep Marquette from taking top honors. If the Redmen should lose their final outing at Manistique, Gladstone could win the championship by beating both Negaunee and Sault Ste. Marie. Setbacks for both Marquette and Gladstone would afford Ishpeming opportunity to finish in first place.

Crystal Falls also could claim a portion of the Land O'Lakes title by winning at Stephenson. Gwinn and Norway already have finished their league schedules with 4-2 records.

The final week's schedule in the Peninsula:

Tuesday—Calumet at Houghton, Gladstone at Negaunee, Stephenson at Iron Mountain, Norway at Kingsford, Crystal Falls at Stephenson, Painesdale at Hancock, Ontonagon at Houghton, Dollar Bay at L'Anse, St. Ignace at Charlevoix, Wakefield at Baraga, Big Bay de Noc at Trenary, Bark River at Rapid River, Rudyard at Brimley, Carney at Republic, Engadine at Cedarville, Champion at Powers, Marenisco at Chassell, Sault Lorette at DeTour, National Mine at Hermansville, Cheboygan Catholic at Pickford.

Saturday—Rock at Perkins.

St. Anne's Wins Grade Cage Title

St. Anne's wrapped up championship honors in the Grade School Basketball League Sunday afternoon by defeating All Saints of Gladstone 42-32 in the final game of the season.

Other games played Sunday found St. Pat's whipping Flat Rock 52-13 and St. Joe bombarding St. Thomas 35-15.

St. Anne's wound up the season with a 9-1 record, while St. Joe's finished second with an 8-2 mark. All Saints 7-3, St. Pat's and St. Thomas 3-7 and Flat Rock 0-10.

The Grade School League tourney will begin Tuesday evening at the Holy Name High School gym. Games on the first night find Flat Rock playing St. Thomas at 6:30 and All Saints going against St. Pat's at 7:30.

Ishpeming Wins Great Lakes Mat Crown Saturday

ing Hematites scored a total of 97 points and captured championship honors in the annual Great Lakes Conference wrestling tournament held here Saturday.

Following the Hematites in the team standings were Gladstone with 71 points, Munising 66, Marquette 40 and Sault Ste. Marie 5.

Gladstone wrestlers winning individual championships were Gary Allsworth, 115-pound class; Randy Smith, 155-pound class and Bob DeGrand, heavyweight class.

Bruins Upset By Oregon; Top Poll Spot In Doubt

By The Associated Press
Who will it be?

That's the big question in the college basketball world this week and it will be answered on several fronts.

In the wake of UCLA's stunning 78-65 loss to Oregon, who will be No. 1 when The Associated Press releases its weekly poll Monday night?

Who will be chosen when the NCAA and National Invitation Tournaments start sending out their bids Tuesday?

The answer to the first question should come from among UCLA, 21-1; Kentucky, 21-1, and St. Bonaventure, 19-1, who ranked 1-2-3 last week. Other once-beaten teams are Jacksonville, 20-1, and Penn, 23-1 and co-owner of the nation's longest winning streak at 16.

Long Beach State, 21-3, shares the nation's longest major college winning streak of 16 with Penn.

The NCAA Tournament which needs 10 at-large teams in addition to the 15 conference champions who qualify automatically, is expected to tap Jacksonville and St. Bonaventure in the East, Marquette and Notre Dame in the Midwest, Houston and Dayton in the Midwest and New Mexico State and Utah State in the West.

Western Kentucky became the first to gain the 25-team field when the Hilltoppers whipped Morehead State 98-74 behind Jim McDaniel's 36 points Saturday night and clinched the Ohio Valley Conference championship. Kansas State assured itself of at least a tie in the Big Eight by downing Nebraska 69-62. The Wildcats can win it by beating Colorado on Thursday.

The NIT probably will go for Niagara, St. John's and Louisiana State—as soon as the Tigers are officially eliminated from the Southeastern Conference race—for its 16-team field.

But the talk of the weekend was Oregon's trouncing of UCLA, last major unbeaten team. The Bruins, shooting for their fourth consecutive national championship, were unbeaten in 1966-67, lost to Houston by two points in 1967-68, lost to Southern California by two last year and had reeled off 21 straight wins this season.

Stan Love, the Pacific Eight's leading scorer, and sophomore Rusty Blair each scored 19 points for Oregon and Blair hit five straight shots early in the second half.

"They whipped us on offense and defense," said UCLA's John Wooden. "Not in 10 years can I remember any team of mine shooting as poorly as we did and getting beaten on the boards as badly."

But Wooden also noted that "the pressure is off us now," which might be bad news for UCLA's remaining opponents.

Steve Belko, Oregon's coach, said, "I honestly thought before the start that we had a good chance to beat them if we played our type of game. And we did just that."

Despite the setback, UCLA has a two-game lead over Oregon in the Pac-8 with four games left.

Kentucky can clinch a tie in the SEC by beating Alabama to night and can win it all if Louisiana State loses to Tennessee.

In a wild shootout Saturday, LSU's Pete Maravich outscored

Kentucky's Dan Issel 61-51 but the Wildcats spoiled Pistol Pete's home finale 121-105. Big Bob Lanier poured in 34 points in St. Bonaventure's 71-61 defeat of Long Island U.

South Carolina ranked fourth, and No. 9 Davidson kept rolling along but both must win NCAA berths via post-season tournaments in the Atlantic Coast and Southern Conferences, respectively. The Gamecocks topped North Carolina 79-62 and Davidson trimmed George Washington 91-74.

Jimmy Collins' 30 points led fifth-ranked New Mexico State past West Texas State 87-73. Sixth rated Jacksonville was idle but No. 7 Penn routed Brown 84-56 and set up Friday night's Ivy showdown with Columbia, which must win to prevent Penn's clinching the title.

Florida State, No. 8 ended Georgia Tech's string of upsets

97-80 and 10th-ranked Marquette crushed Detroit 80-60.

In other league races, Iowa defeated Ohio State 97-89 and leads the Big Ten by two games with four left; Rice beat Texas 75-67 for a two-game lead in the Southwest Conference with three to play; Utah moved one-half game in front in the Western Athletic Conference by outpacing Wyoming while Texas-El Paso lost to Arizona.

Drake pulled 1½ games ahead of Louisville in the Missouri Valley by holding off Tulsa while Cincinnati beat runner-up Louisville.

Santa Clara and Pacific are tied for the West Coast A.C. lead with four games remaining while Ohio U. can take Mid-American honors if Bowling Green loses to Western Michigan on Wednesday. If not, the Bobcats and Falcons play next Saturday.

Cerrudo Claims Tourney Victory

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — It was nine years coming, but Ron Cerrudo finally got revenge for a defeat in the California Amateur golf championship.

"I finally caught up with him," Cerrudo laughed after beating Dick Lotz in a duel for the $20,000 top prize in the San Antonio Open golf tournament Sunday.

"It's the first time we've played head to head since he beat me in the finals of that 1961 state amateur at Pebble Beach," Cerrudo said. He had beaten Dick's brother, John, in the semifinals before the other Lotz knocked him off.

And Dick threatened in the final round Sunday, twice closing to within one stroke before Cerrudo pulled away. Cerrudo had a final round 68, two under par on the soggy, 7,133 yard Pecan Valley Golf Club course, for 273.

Lotz, his long-time friend and playing partner, also had a 68 and took second, five strokes back, at 278.

Ron Fushett, 70, and Miller Barber, 68, shared third at 279. Those four were the only players to break par during the weather-plagued tournament. Sleet, cold and wind hampered play the first three days, and a drizzling rain fell during most of the final round.

Ron Cerrudo

Al Geiberger and John Schlee were tied at 282, with Dave Stockton, Orville Moody, Kermit Zarley and Chris Blocker at 283.

Cerrudo started the final round with a four stroke lead over Fushett. Lotz was one more stroke back.

But Cerrudo quickly ran into trouble.

"I was very nervous," he said. "Not so bad that I lost control of myself, but I was choking something awful," he said.

He bogeyed the second hole, missing the green and a three foot putt. Lotz then put on a rush, taking birdies on the next three holes and closing to within one stroke.

"I felt more comfortable when he got close," Cerrudo said. "I thought that I'd have to start playing golf now and quit patty-caking it around."

Lotz bogeyed the sixth, three-putting, but birdied the eighth when he put his approach shot four feet from the hole. That put him back to one behind. He bogeyed the ninth from a trap. Cerrudo ran in a 20 footer on the 10th, and it wasn't close again.

The Powers-Spalding district's proposal was for erecting and furnishing of four additional classrooms and a new library at a cost of $240,000.

An election on proposed consolidation of the two districts, located in northern Menominee County, must await sale of bonds by the Hermansville board.

B52s Unload On 'Ho' Trail

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers made heavy strikes against the Ho Chi Minh trail in Laos today for the seventh consecutive day and ranged to within a mile of the demilitarized zone.

Informed sources said about half of the 30,000 tons of bombs dropped by the big bombers so far this month have been on supply depots and infiltration corridors in eastern Laos, to cut down the movement of troops and war materials into South Vietnam.

Informed sources also said about 50 B52s made heavy raids up and down the Ho Chi Minh trail Sunday and today, dropping 1,500 tons of explosives.

The U.S. Command, which reports only B52 strikes flown in South Vietnam, said one five-bomber mission attacked supply depots and staging areas along the coast, a mile below the DMZ.

They were the closest raids to the DMZ reported since Dec. 14. Fifteen miles farther west along the DMZ, North Vietnamese gunners shot down a U.S. Army Cobra helicopter gunship, but the two-man crew was rescued unhurt.

Sources in Saigon said they had indications that North Vietnamese replacements were beginning to arrive in the 3rd Corps area stretching from Saigon 100 miles north to the Cambodian border.

Freedom By Bond Eyed By Lawyers In Chicago Case

CHICAGO (AP) — Lawyers for seven men jailed in the Chicago riot case hope an appeals court will let their clients out on bond this week, possibly Wednesday.

Government prosecutors have until 1 p.m. Wednesday to present the U.S. 7th Circuit Court of Appeals with a brief opposing a request for bail for the seven. Defense lawyers put in their bid for bail Saturday.

John Tucker, one of several lawyers not involved in the trial who is working on the appeals, said there was a good chance the court would rule on the bond request Wednesday.

"The precedents are all in our favor," Tucker said. "If we were not for the political climate of the whole thing there would be no question on the issuance of bonds."

Judge Julius J. Hoffman of U.S. District Court refused the men bail, saying that they were dangerous.

A jury convicted five of the defendants of crossing state lines with the intent of inciting riots the week of the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

Judge Hoffman sentenced the men to five years in prison and fined them $5,000 each plus the cost of prosecution. In addition, he imposed contempt sentences on all seven defendants ranging from 2½ months to 2½ years.

Defense attorney Leonard I. Weinglass said the appeal of the convictions would cite the jury deliberations.

Weinglass said in a speech at Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., that "room-to-room negotiating was carried on" by the jury "until all 12 came to a verdict of guilty" for five defendants.

When the jurors retired to the hotel where they were sequestered, Weinglass said, four who thought all the defendants innocent "returned to one room and the eight returned to another." He said this resulted in a verdict that "is a complete failure of the deliberating process... On these grounds we intend to predicate our appeal."

Veep Prepared For Showdown

ATLANTA (AP)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says he plans to continue to act as a spokesman against "those who seek to destroy our heritage of liberty and our system of justice."

"The everyday law-abiding American who believes in his country needs a strong voice to articulate his dissatisfaction... to penetrate the cacophony of seditious dribble emanating from the best publicized clowns in our society and their fans in the Fourth Estate," Agnew said.

The vice president spoke here Saturday to more than 1,000 persons attending a $100-a-plate Republican fund-raising dinner.

"The liberal media have been calling on me to lower my voice to seek accord and unity among all Americans," Agnew said.

"Nothing would please me more than to see all voices lowered, to see us return to discussion and debate within our institutions..." the vice president declared.

"But," he continued, "I want you to know I will not make a unilateral withdrawal and thereby abridge the confidence of the 'Silent Majority.'"

"If the hippies and the yuppies and the disrupters of the system in Washington, the disrupters of the systems that Washington and Lincoln as presidents brought forth in this country will shut up and work within our free system of government I will lower my voice," he said.

Birthday Party Late For Prince

TOKYO (AP) — Prince Hiro, the eldest son of Crown Prince Akihito and Princess Michiko, is 10 years old today but he will have to wait 17 days for a birthday party.

A palace spokesman said the birthday party is scheduled March 12 because his parents are away on a 10-day visit to Malaysia and Singapore. The Japanese royal couple is scheduled to return home Feb. 28.

Prince Hiro, a fourth grader, was to receive congratulations at the Imperial Palace this evening, the spokesman said.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all who assisted us at the time of our recent bereavement. We especially thank all our friends, neighbors and relatives for the cards, flowers, Spiritual Bouquets, food and money; the VFW, doctors, nurses and hospital staff; St. Christopher's Circle, Msgr. Schermer, the pallbearers, the Messier-Brouillette Funeral Home. All these acts of kindness are deeply appreciated.

The Family Of Joe Gardapee

BLOSSOM QUEEN — Marie Ellyn Fong, daughter of Sen. Hiram Fong, R-Hawaii, certainly looks pretty enough for her new job — queen of the 43rd Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester, Va., come April 30. Miss Fong, who will be 22 April 17, is a senior at Goucher College in Baltimore. She's a fine arts major.

Salt Cutback Could Solve Hypertension

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail: If you are subject to hypertensive headaches—those that accompany high blood pressure—you may be able to end or curb them simply by using less salt. The Panama Canal, hailed as one of the world's modern wonders upon its completion in 1914, is becoming outmoded. Almost a thousand ships are too wide to go through "the big ditch," and another 1,200 have to reduce their cargo in order to navigate it.

Those good old days: It's hard to believe now, but back in 1836 the U.S. Treasury declared a federal surplus of $28 million and divided it among 26 states.

Instead of using old newspapers to wrap wet fish, in the future we may eat them. A micro-organism that converts cellulose waste into pure protein has been found by Louisiana State University researchers. The protein which, hopefully, can be combined with other substances to make tasty food products has the texture of rough flour.

The older you are, the less likely you are to be a litterbug. That may be a minor tribute to age, but it's a fact. A survey found that people between 21 and 35 are three times as likely to leave litter around as those over 50.

Quotable notables: "Show me a community or a country where all the minor vices are discouraged, and I will show you one bereft of major virtues." —Hewwood Brown.

No easy way: Wouldn't you like to learn a foreign language by "listening" to records or radio broadcasts in that tongue played while you slept? It sounds great, but according to language experts consulted by New York State's attorney general, this kind of sleep learning is "inconceivable."

It is small wonder why bees are so busy. A bee has to visit 60-to-90 thousand flowers to make a mere thimbleful of honey. To add only two pounds of honey a day to a hive, five million individual bee flights are required.

If you feel you aren't hearing quite as well as you used to, smoking may be a contributory cause. A study at the Women's Medical College of Pennsylvania found that many smokers over 50 have a mildly impaired ability to hear low-pitched tones.

Worth remembering: "To handle yourself, use your head — to handle others, use your heart."

The earth is probably betting fatter as the result of thousands of tons of star dust it accumulates annually from its whirl through space. But your chances of seeing a really big asteroid strike the earth—say one weighing 50,000 tons or more—are pretty meager. It is estimated that one crashes into our plane only about once over 18,000 years.

It was Samuel Johnson who observed, "The feeling of friendship is like that of being comfortably filled with roast beef; love, like being enlightened with champagne."

The order and pattern in which colored beads worn by Zulu girls are threaded reveal the girl's feelings. A gaudy ornament indicates a broken heart. White beads signify love and hope; red means anger; green depicts depression.

Pope Overjoyed By College Visit

ROME (AP) — Pope Paul VI says his visit to the North American Pontifical College was "one of the most beautiful and fullest moments of our apostolic ministry."

The 73-year-old Pontiff said Mass Sunday for 250 American seminarians and priests at their Rome residence college. The students stood in their pews and applauded as he left smiling and blessing them.

"You are the sons of a great people, strong and generous. You are in a wonderful position . . . to bring salvation and happiness to humanity," the Pope said in a brief sermon.

Concept Hit

JACKSON (AP) — State Sen. Sander Levin, D - Berkley, has attacked the concept of the "silent majority," calling it "a speechwriter's fabrication, designed to dull the national spirit." Levin spoke Sunday before a student audience at Jackson Community College. "The great advantage of claiming a silent majority is that you don't have to listen to it," he said. "It can't talk back."

Second Victim

FLINT (AP) — A two-car smashup Feb. 15 on Dixie Highway near Bridgeport in Saginaw County claimed its second victim today. Diane Robinson, 19, of Clio died in a Flint hospital, apparently as the result of severe head injuries suffered in the crash. A 17-year old Mount Morris girl, Brenda Pease, was killed instantly in the wreck.
